CHRIST CHURCH GRAVE-YARD AND THE FORGOTTEN GRAVES.—The surroundings of Christ Church are in harmony with the ancient structure and its memories. The church stands upon the retired corner of the square it occupies. The fence erected in 1830, the original enclosure having been built in 1783, is high and antique, and the grounds, with their scattered, moss-grown, and crumbling grave-stones, are thickly overshadowed with forest trees. The passway up to the church, with its neglected graves on either hand, and towering branches casting their sombre shadows upon the scene, conspire to awaken impressive thoughts; and as you pass into the arched gateway and up the walk, the feverish thoughts which beset you at the entrance flee away and you approach the vestibule of the ancient sanctuary with emotions imperceptibly toned to softened sadness:

"A kindly mood of melancholy.
That wings the soul and points her to the skies."
There have been no interments in the ground for some quarter of a century, the latest being that of Charles Bennett, a benefactor of the city, over whose remains rises the massive obelisk, raised in his memory by the Common Council of the Corporation in 1841. The following inscription upon a small headstone bears the earliest date we discovered in the enclosure:

"Here lies the body of Mr. Isaac Pierce. Born in Boston. Son of Mr. Isaac Pierce, Distiller, who departed this life, March 26th, 1771. Aged 24 years."

Another slate headstone, in perfect preservation, records, in plain letters, as follows:

"This monument is sacred to the memory of the ones loved and esteemed Capt. George Mumford, late of New Haven, in the Colony of Conn. He departed this transitory life at Georgetown, July 7th, 1773, in the 28th year of his age."

From a large, elaborate carved sandstone memorial, not in its place, but leaning against the walls of the church, we copied the following interesting memento:

"Erected to the memory of Eleanor, the 2nd wife of Mr. Daniel Wren, who departed this life in the year 1738, aged thirty-two years. Rev. chap. xiv, verse 13. 'Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, from henceforth. Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them.'"
This stone was placed over her by Order of her disconsolate Husband, who was left with two children to lament her Loss—John William Renwick, her son, being only three years old when his Mother departed this Life, and Dinah Eleanor Wren, their Daughter, aged only seven days."

Some industrious scamp, with more skill in his chisel than grace in his heart, has neatly inserted the figure 9 so that the casual observer will read, without detecting the change, that the disconsolate man has here commemorated his 9th wife, and this is the form in which letter-writers have repeatedly given this record publicly.

In another place are two sandstone slabs, with the following records:

"Here Lieth the Body of Robert Muir, son of Hugh Muir, merchant, of Dumfries, who departed this life Dec. 21, 1736, aged about thirty-eight years."

"Here Lieth the Body of John Muir, late merchant of Alexandria, oldest son of Hugh Muir, of Dumfries, in Scotland, who departed this life March 29th, 1791, in the 60th year of his age."

"A Friend to all,
A Poet to none."

"Firm to thy word when justice rules the sway; Mild without weakness; without rigour, just."
"Parochial and Kindred friends."
Mercy and Truth shall guide each other."

Among the monuments is one to the memory of Mrs. Warren, the wife of Mr. Warren, the manager of the Theatre, with this inscription: "Beneath this stone are deposited the remains of Mrs. Anne Warren, daughter of John Branton, (Ing.) and wife of William Warren, esq., one of the managers of the Philadelphia and Baltimore theatres. By her loss the American stage has been deprived of its brightest ornament. The unrivalled excellence of her theatrical talents was only surpassed by the many accomplishments which adorned her private life. In her were combined the affectionate wife, the tender mother and the sincere friend. She died at Alexandria on the 28th of June, 1808, aged thirty-nine years."—Nat. Intelligencer.

PERILS OF RESEMBLANCE.—On Sunday morning last the detectives of Baltimore, were placed upon the lookout by a telegram from Cumberland, stating that a man named Eagan had committed some offence in that place, and that his arrest was desired. The telegram further stated that he was a passenger on the train to arrive in Baltimore early Sunday morning, and gave a description of his person. When the train arrived it brought as a passenger, Dr. T. Clay Maddox, of Richmond, who, by the way, was known to many persons in the Valley, and when the eyes of the detectives fell upon him, they "spotted" him as their victim, and would take no denial. He answered the description, and to the station-house he must go. He assured them that his name was not Eagan, that he was Maddox when he left home and he believed that he was Maddox still, and as a proof pointed to his clothes which were marked with his name, and to the collar on the neck of a favorite dog. All would not do, however, and his vigilant captives retained him in possession until he was identified by the proprietor of the Maltby House. What became of the real offender is not known.—Charleston Spirit of Jefferson.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Without making a useless harangue, I will say to my friends and the public that I am now prepared to supply all their wants in the way of STOVES. It is time lost to undertake to look for anything better than can be found in my store. I have something new in the way of HEATING STOVES, which cannot be surpassed in style or beauty of design. To one and all I will say that whatever I warrant to answer the purpose I sold it for. I therefore invite my country friends to call and examine my stock of COOKING and HEATING STOVES before purchasing elsewhere, confident that they will not go away displeased. I would also enumerate amongst my stock a fine lot of TIN WARE, of my own manufacture, and made by very experienced workmen; also, TINNED SALES, PRESERVING KETTLES, Fruit Cans, Fine Japanned and Plated Ware and Chamber Sets, to which I would call the attention of the public. Coffee Urns, Tea Urns, Waffle Irons, Children's Toys, and a fine lot of Block Tin Ware and other articles which are too numerous to mention. Thankful for past patronage I hope to have a continuance of the same.
